Governor Jay Inslee / Washington State Department of Health Update

Effective 12:01 AM on June 30, all industry sectors previously covered by guidance in the Healthy Washington – Roadmap to Recovery or the Safe Start Reopening Plan may return to usual capacity and operations, with limited exceptions for large indoor events (any event with more than 10,000 simultaneous participants in an indoor, enclosed space.)

Reopening guidance:

- Vaccine verification/negative testing: Recommended but not required for large indoor and outdoor events
- Capacity limitations: No restrictions in restaurants, bars, stores, businesses, theaters etc. (except large indoor events)
- Physical distancing: No requirements
- Facial coverings: Not required for vaccinated individuals, unless required by individual business
- Travelers: Follow CDC recommendations

*Some exceptions will include schools and childcare centers that will continue to have some facial coverings and physical distancing requirements.

Requirements for places of employment issued by the Washington State Department of Labor & Industries have been updated here.

Masking Update

The Secretary of Health's mask order will remain in place even after June 30, which means that people who are not fully vaccinated need to continue to wear a face mask in public indoor settings even when things start to go back to normal as the state reaches a reopening milestone.

The settings in which all people, including people who are fully vaccinated, are required to wear masks include:

• child care facilities, camps, K-12 schools, and other youth settings where children are present or expected to be present:

- health care settings, in accordance with CDC health care infection prevention and control recommendations;
- correctional facilities in areas where incarcerated individuals are present or expected to be present;
- homeless shelters in areas where individuals being served are present or expected to be present;
- public transportation and transportation hubs, including airports, bus or ferry terminals, train and subway stations

In most other settings, people who are fully vaccinated do not need to wear a mask.

Businesses and local authorities can set their own more protective mask requirements, even though some state restrictions are being lifted. That's why the DOH message around masking is "Respect the rules of the room you're in," since those rules may change depending on where you are. Guidance for employers is available on the Washington State Department of Labor & Industries website.

Is it clear who must wear masks when entering your establishment? Many customers have difficulty discerning the protocols to follow without a sign on the door, letting them know. We have flyers here that you can print out to clear up the confusion. They are available in both English and Spanish.

Vaccine Information

- o Many providers have open appointments with walk-ins available.
- Johnson & Johnson is a one-shot vaccine.
- o Pfizer and Moderna are a two-shot series, make sure your second dose is completed.
- Pfizer is currently approved for those 12 and older. If you are a young adult, search for Pfizer on the vaccine locator.

Are you or someone you know experiencing vaccine hesitancy? The Washington State Department of Health is a great resource for addressing vaccine hesitancy. Visit the Washington State Department of Health's resource page about "Addressing Vaccine Hesitancy" for more details.
